

Flash Floods Fatal To 5 In Nebraska; Damage In Millions

OMAHA, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraska counted five dead and assessed flood damage likely to run into the millions of dollars today as the result of cloudbursting week-end rains that dumped as much as 13 inches of water in seven hours.

The known victims were occupants of a car caught in a flash flood on a highway about 14 miles north of Fullerton in east central Nebraska.

City Under Water

But York, about 42 miles southeast of Fullerton, took the brunt of the fabulous downpour. While water in the government weather observer's rain gauge climbed to 13.15 inches, overflow from Beaver Creek, normally about six feet wide, spread over approximately one-fourth of the city of some 6,000 persons.

About 200 residents of the south part of town were rescued by boat and truck. The National Guardsmen were called out, temporary shelter was provided in the city auditorium and the Red Cross put its disaster relief machinery in full operation.

Hard hit also was Beaver Crossing, a town of about 500 some 20 miles southeast of York. Approximately one-fourth of the town was flooded. National Guardsmen, employing "ducks" (amphibious vehicles) helped with excavations.

Beaver Crossing itself received less than two inches of rain but runoff water piled up around the town.

The water, quick to come up, was quick to subside. Most flood-hit residents of York and other communities moved back to begin rehabilitation work today.

Three Babies Born

York's first flood in 25 years developed into a series of races with the stork. Two boys and a girl were born after their mothers were rescued from flood waters. One of the mothers, Mrs. Charles Powers, waded through neck-deep water to high ground. National Guardsmen picked her up in a "duck" and took her to a hospital where her baby, a boy, was born a few minutes later.

Approximately 50 persons were at the York Country club when the roof blew off and into a nearby cornfield. There were no casualties.

Near Cordova, one farm family slept through the storm, finally awakened when flood water caved in the basement walls.

The fate of the five occupants of the flood hit car north of Fullerton first became known when a farmer, repairing his fences, found two bodies, that of a man and a young girl.

Searchers subsequently located the other three.

Crash Kills 2 Pilots Enroute To Selfridge

WOLFSVILLE, Md.—(AP)—A two-engine air force training plane bound for Selfridge Field, Mich., crashed on the side of a mountain near here early today in a pouring rain and both pilots died when the wreckage burst into flame.

State police recovered the bodies and identified the pilots as Lt. Charles C. Richards of Detroit and Lt. James Robert McWilliams, 24, of Farmington, Mich.

Selfridge Field said they were members of the Air Force Reserve's 439th Troop Carrier wing and were returning from a week-end cross-country training flight.

The Beechcraft trainer had been serviced at Baltimore's Harbor Field and took off about 11:40 p. m. (EST) for Michigan. Air Force officials at Bolling Field, Washington, said it was a reserve plane.

It crashed, between 12:00 and 12:30 a. m. half way up the east side of South Mountain, about 12 miles east of Hagerstown. The spot is near Shangri-La, the Catalin Mountain retreat often used by President Truman and the late President Roosevelt.

Residents of the area heard a plane flying low overhead and then a terrific crash.

Paul Heffner said the plane went over his log cabin so low he was afraid it would take the roof off. He heard the crash a few moments later and saw towering flames.

State troopers found the wreckage scattered over an area about 100 feet square in a hollow. One body was under a wing, the other lay clear about seven or eight feet away.

Refugee Party Polls Big Vote In Schleswig

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

KIEL, Germany — (AP) — East German refugees had made a strong showing today in a British zone election but failed in their bid for control of the Schleswig-Holstein parliament.

Complete returns from Saturday's balloting in this state, which borders on Denmark, showed the new refugee party had polled about 25 per cent of the total vote. That is enough to make it a definite power in the 69-member state parliament, and might even win it a spot in a coalition government.

The election was watched whether west Germany's 10,000,000 discontented refugees would become a political group to be reckoned with.

The new group cut deeply into the strength of the established political parties. The left wing Social Democratic party, which has governed Schleswig-Holstein for several years, lost its parliamentary majority. It received less than one-third of the vote.

A right wing bloc—the Christian Democrats, Free Democrats and the German party—won first place by pooling their strength behind the same candidates in each of the 46 electoral districts.

The combine is similar to the right wing coalition federal government at Bonn, and opposes the state's present Socialist planned economy.

Many members of the refugee party are homeless and jobless. They based their campaign on complaints that the state and federal governments have not done enough to help the refugees.

AFTER MARQUETTE PRISON FIGHT — Gov. G. Mennen Williams Saturday grappled with a Marquette prison convict who menaced the governor with a butcher knife as he was inspecting the prison mess hall. One convict was shot and killed as guards squelched the escape plot. Williams is shown above as he revisited the prison Sunday morning to thank the guards

Reds Tie Up 7 Americans And Murder Them

Air Blows Slow Up Communist Push

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO—(AP)—Northern Communist troops battled to within 20 air miles of Taejeon, South Korea's temporary capital, early today after a "lost" U. S. battalion had fought its way out of a trap and the first American victims of Red atrocity were found.

Bound and shot in the face, the bodies of seven American soldiers were found in a see-saw battle area yesterday. They were not members of the "lost" battalion, which has rejoined its regiment and is ready for action.

Hemmed In Two Days

They were found by Lt. D. C. Gates of Texas, who identified four of them as his ammunition carriers. They were seen trapped and surrendering to two Red tanks a short time earlier.

General MacArthur in his 12:02 a. m. (9:02 a. m. EST Monday) communique told of the new North Korean advance. He said the stride was made by the North Korean first division, which had hemmed in the unidentified "lost" battalion for two days before it slugged its way free.

MacArthur's communique said another force, probably the third North Korean division, was in contact with United States forces at Chochiwon, 15 miles southeast of Chonan.

At Chinchon, the second North Korean division engaged elements of a South Korean corps on a front just south of the city, the communique reported.

MacArthur said enemy pressure gained some ground in the Umsong-Chungju area, some 70 miles northeast of Chonan. Units of the 15th North Korean division there forced back southern Republican troops to high ground northwest of Umsong, he said.

Ford UAW Has Loyalty Oath

Union Officers Sign Anti-Red Pledges

DETROIT—(AP)—Ford Local 600, giant of the CIO United Auto Workers union (CIO); will require its 550 officials to sign anti-Communist pledges.

The general council of the 60,000 member local voted Sunday 75 to 63, to establish the pledge requirement. It gave the local's officials until August 1 to sign the pledges, on penalty of possible ouster.

The action is the first such on record for any UAW local. It was made as part of a general policy of support of president Truman for his action in Korea, and condemnation of the Soviet Union.

The measure, proposed by Carl Stellato, newly-elected local president, met with bitter opposition. One opponent warned that it would set the pattern for loyalty pledges from all industrial workers.

"This will be called witch-hunting," Stellato said. "But how can that charge be justified when American soldiers are being killed in Korea?"

Walkout Ends On Rock Island

Railway Switchmen Return To Work

CHICAGO—(AP)—The 1,500 switchmen who defied President Truman's intervention in their strike against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad have bowed to a court order and returned to work.

Arthur J. Glover, president of the AFL Switchmen's Union of North America, told the men late Saturday night that in view of the court order "we have no choice now."

The order with which Glover quickly complied was a temporary injunction issued by federal judge John Knight in Buffalo, N. Y., headquarters city for the union. It came only a few hours after the union had seized the 8,000-mile line under order of President Truman.

Passenger trains began moving over the line yesterday, the first since the strike began two weeks earlier. Freight service was expected to be resumed in a day or two. All the railroad's operations are technically under the army supervision which had failed to budge the union. Glover had said he would ignore the military seizure unless the government seized "the profits of the railroad as well as the labor of free men."

He also had turned down President Truman's plea of last Thursday to end the strike on the Rock Island, but had lifted the walkout against four other western railroads that had been struck at the same time. They were the Great Northern, the Chicago Great Western, the Western Pacific, and the Denver and Rio Grande Western. All except the Great Northern made no attempt to operate during the strike. The Great Northern had maintained partial service.

Army Alerts Home Mobile Forces To Be Sent To Korea

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(AP)—The army has started dipping into the small five-division mobile force stationed in the United States to hasten help for American forces rocked by an onrushing North Korean army.

The decision to order the 2nd Infantry Division and an unspecified number of smaller units from other organizations to the Far East came less than two weeks after the United States had stepped into the Korean conflict to assist South Korea in repelling the invaders from the north.

It was indicative of how the timetable has quickened as unhappy reports came into the Pentagon from the front.

Slash In Home Spending Urged

Bulge In Military Outlays Foreseen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) spearheaded a drive today to cut domestic spending, to make way for an expected bulge in military outlays to fight the war in Korea.

Byrd told reporters he sees no reason why some more fat can't be trimmed off domestic activities in the $34,700,000,000 single-package money bill the Senate starts debating tomorrow.

"Purely domestic expenditures have been increased 77 per cent since 1948," Byrd said. "With a war on our hands, some of these outlays must be cut or we are going to spend ourselves into the kind of bankruptcy the Russians are counting on."

Byrd was promised help in his economy drive by a group of Republicans who backed a personnel and travel-trimming amendment rejected Saturday by the Senate appropriations committee when it approved the huge money bill. The amendment would not affect military outlays.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who has said he would be willing to support and necessary increase in military funds if that will bring a decisive victory in Korea, called also for economies in non-military spending.

Taft told a reporter he thinks the Korean fighting will make it more difficult than it appeared previously for Congress to cut excessive taxes about $1,000,000,000 as proposed in a house-approved bill on which the Senate finance committee resumes hearings today.

Fire Near Ionia Takes 4 Lives

Mother And 3 Small Children Trapped

IONIA, Mich.—(AP)—A mother and three of her four children were trapped and burned to death today in a fire that destroyed their rural home near here.

Victims were Mrs. Florence Booth, 30, and her children: Ted, 5, Linda, 4, and Carl, 1½.

Wayne Booth, the husband and father, expressed belief that an oil stove in the basement exploded. The mother's body was found near the stove.

Booth escaped, having left earlier for a factory job in Lansing, as his wife prepared to do the family wash. A daughter, Joan, 7, also escaped. She was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Booth, at nearby Orleans.

The fire was discovered at 7:13 a. m. by neighbors, who said the house was aflame by then.

Fire chief Harlan Eggleston was burned on his hands when a flaming timber fell on him as the firemen struggled against terrific heat to get a hose line into the house.

Knifer Grabs Governor; Convict Shot In Marquette Prison Plot

Caution Rules Busy Highways

Traffic Death Toll Drops In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)

Post Fourth of July caution apparently ruled Michigan's highways over the weekend.

In some of the pleasant weather of the summer, thousands of Michigan residents again headed for parks and beaches.

But as compared with the previous weekend, when 53 persons were killed in accidents, only 19 fatalities were recorded.

Nine persons died in traffic mishaps. Another 10 drowned in a series of boating and swimming accidents.

Lawrence Salo, 19, of Beechwood, drowned Sunday when his car went out of control and plunged through a guardrail gap into the Iron River. The accident occurred on county road 424 near Caspian.

Police Trooper George Kerr as guards were putting down an attempt by three prisoners to escape by using Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a prison visitor as a shield.

Bullet In Stomach

Halstead, serving 15 to 30 years for armed robbery, died at 3:10 a. m. today in the prison hospital. An operation was performed Sunday for removal of the bullet in his stomach.

Two other ringleaders in the plot were put in solitary confinement. They are Ralph Stearns and Jack Hyatt, both of Detroit and both also serving long terms for armed robbery.

Gov. Williams was not hurt and the attempted prison break was broken up by prison guards after one guard and a steward in the prison kitchen were hurt in a mess hall melee.

Al Haukness, the guard, had both arms broken during the fighting that broke out while the governor was inspecting the prisoners' mess.

The steward, Jim Nancarrow, was stunned when hit by a steel potato masher wielded by one of the prisoners.

Gov. Williams, who came through the ordeal calmly, said the warden and prison staff "performed well" in putting down the escape attempt.

Getaway Planned

But it was Kerr, the governor's own bodyguard, who came in for special commendation. Kerr suffered two knife wounds while shielding his chief from attacks by Stearns. The convicts apparently intended to use Williams as hostage.

Williams later appeared at a dinner here, apparently untroubled by the incident. He told the diners:

"These prison guards receive little more than $200 a month. How can everything be well in a system in which people are putting their lives in jeopardy and receiving little more than $200 a month for it?"

The trio of hardened prison inmates had suddenly attempted a get away as the governor inspected the prisoners at mess.

Holding a butcher knife against Williams' ribs, Stearns forced the governor into a steward's office adjoining the kitchen. At the same time Hyatt viciously attacked Haukness and Nancarrow when the two prison employees tried to intervene.

Warden Emory Jacques said that 20 of the 450 prisoners eating at the time milled about at the kitchen door, shouting. But Jacques said, "I kept talking and quieted them down."

Gun Comes Handy

Without notice, another ringleader in the plot, John Halstead,

Colombian Earthquake Death Toll Now 270; Damage In Millions

BOGOTA, Colombia—(AP)—The health ministry announced today 270 persons died in weekend earthquakes in Colombia.

Another 17,000 are injured or homeless in seven towns of north-central Colombia, newspaper reports indicated.

The health ministry said its death figures came from provincial health authorities at Cucuta who are supervising relief work. The town of Aboroleas, Cuculla and Salazar and the country area around them suffered most from the wave of five quakes. The ministry said nothing is left standing in Arboledas, which had 20,000 population.

The newspaper El Siglo estimated material damage at the equivalent of $31,050,000. El Tiempo figured the damage at about $20,700,000. The government has rushed help by aircraft.

Army troops and police in the devastated region are aiding the victims and trying to keep order.

The Colombian government has rushed doctors, nurses and medicines in by plane.

Food and supplies for the homeless, including tents are being flown in from Bogota.

Official sources said telegraph and telephone lines were down while highways and roads were split by deep cleavages.

An official report sent in to President Mariano Ospina Perez gave the death toll, as recorded so far:

Arboledas, 10 in the town and 60 in the surrounding rural area; Cuculla, 40 in the rural sections, with the figure expected to mount; Barrientos three, Quebradahonda, five, Montecristo, five.

The provincial governor reported Arboledas and Cuculla as almost destroyed and said many houses were damaged in other towns, including Salazar, San Jose de Avila, Mutiscua and Toledo, where two churches were leveled.

Will Discuss Phone Plans Meeting At Alton Hall On Tuesday

The Rural Communications Cooperative of Gladstone will meet with residents of Ensign township at the Alton grange hall at 8 Tuesday night, July 11, to discuss telephone service needs in the area.

Telephone committees of both Ensign and Bay de Noc townships recently conducted surveys of the area to determine the extent to which service should be extended.

John R. Whitmore, coordinator of the RCC, states the cooperative will accept membership applications and fees from both Ensign and Bay de Noc townships at the present time. The membership fees paid, according to information from the REA, will tend to give a much more accurate picture of the need for telephone service.

Included in the agenda of the meeting will be a discussion of the cooperative's plans for providing toll free service from the Stonington peninsula to Gladstone and Escanaba. Through the use of REA funds, the cooperative is planning to extend telephone service to the rural areas of Menominee, Delta, Marquette and Alger counties. This service will be provided on an area-coverage basis, whereby all applicants will receive service at equal cost, Whitmore said.

Members of the board of directors of the cooperative represent rural areas which are at present without telephone service. They are: John Ohlen, Perkins, chairman; Peder Pedersen, Stonington, secretary-treasurer; Archie Potvin, North Delta; Howard Strahl, Gourley; and Clark C. Haskins, who lives near Au Train.

Bumblebee Buzz Brings Bruises

A bumblebee which distracted the driver's attention was the cause of a slight accident on M-35, 12 miles south of Escanaba, Sunday morning.

A car driven by Mrs. Constance J. Moran, 27, 936 West Oakdale, Chicago ran off the road but did not overturn. Mrs. Moran, her passengers, Joseph Moran, her husband, and Nellie Moran, 62, Manistee, Mich., suffered bruises.

So. 14th Street Being Widened

Cost Of Project Is $10,000

Widening of the east side of South 14th street was begun this morning by the public works department.

Last year the west side of the street was widened three feet, and the same increase will be made on the east side this year.

The workers started at 11th avenue south and will work toward Ludington street. Overhanging street lights will replace the boulevard type now used.

Loren Jenkins, city engineer, estimates that the project will be completed in six to eight weeks. Cost of the project is estimated at $10,000.

Last Bomber Squad In Michigan Guards Converted To Jets

LANSING—(AP)—The Michigan National Guard's last bomber squadron has been ordered converted to a fighter squadron equipped with F-84 Thunder jet planes, the adjutant general's office announced.

The announcement said the National Guard bureau had ordered the 107th light bombardment squadron of Detroit converted to jets and redesignated as the 107th Fighter Squadron. It will continue to be based at the Romulus airport.

The unit is the second of the National Guard's squadrons to be converted to jet planes and means that the Michigan group now is an all-fighter and interceptor outfit.

The guard announcement said it had received 28 Republic jet planes and would receive a total of 40.

Knifer Grapples With Governor At Marquette Prison

leaped at Corp. Kerr, bandishing a knife and stabbing at the trooper's back.

Kerr grabbed his gun and shot the convict in the stomach. He had been carrying the gun despite prison rules forbidding firearms inside the grounds.

Williams had Stearns gripped by the wrist of his knife hand. Stearns kept shouting, "I've served 22 years," once he turned to the governor and said, "I could kill you, Soapy, but you don't deserve it."

"The governor defended himself extremely well," Warden Jacques reported later.

Williams attended a county Democratic dinner later and was scheduled to inspect Porcupine Mountain state park at Ontonagon today.

Break Of 1939 Recalled
Pleading for higher pay for prison guards, the governor referred to the Marquette prison situation, saying:

"They have 10 less guards there than last year and almost 75 more prisoners. This doesn't bode well for the security of the people of Michigan."

"One guard had both arms broken and was knifed several times. Obviously he will be out of commission for some time. During this period, no replacement will be available—thus further lowering already inadequate standards."

Stearns and Hyatt, both of Detroit, and Halstead, from Jackson, were placed in solitary confinement when the escape attempt was snuffed out. All three are serving long terms for armed robbery.

Stearns escaped from the prison in 1939 with three fellow convicts and fled in a car to near Menom-

Father Joseph Beauchene solemnized the service at an altar decorated with pink and white peonies and candles.

Mary Jane Cavil, a cousin of the bride sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed her bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Virgin and "Ave Maria" at the offertory. The music of the wedding mass was sung by Sacred Heart choir under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Seymour who played the traditional bridal marches.

White Satin Gown

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a basque bodice, drop shoulder effect yoke of organdie outlined with lace ruffling and a full skirt with a circular train. Her "something borrowed" was her sister's fingertip wedding veil, edged in lace caught to a crown of orange blossoms. Her sister, Beatrice, who was maid of honor, and Kathryn Ann Urgo, a cousin, who was flower girl, wore yellow gowns and carried a colonial bouquets. The bridegroom's nephew, Jimmy Sitko who was ring bearer, wore a white suit.

George DeLoughary was best man for his nephew.

Mrs. DeLoughary wore a grey suit and a corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and white print and a like corsage. Corsages of pink soapdragons and carnations complemented the costumes of Mrs. Marie DeLoughary, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Rose Wardzinski, the bridegroom's grandmother.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a reception for relatives and friends. Cathedral tapers and peonies decorated the bridal table and tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bridal couple.

Women Save 2 Men And Boy From Lake After Boat Capsizes

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. — (AP) — Two men and a six year old boy, pitched into Lake Michigan Sunday evening when their speedboat capsized, were rescued from drowning by three women counselors from the YWCA summer camp at Forest beach near here.

Saved were George Biggerstaff, 34, his son, George Jr., 6, and Herman Novak, 31, all of Michigan city. Ird. none could swim.

Moving parallel to the shore 200 yards out, the boat was overturned by a wave. The occupants were thrown into the water. Biggerstaff and Novak grasped the sides of the craft. Biggerstaff held his son.

The accident occurred near a section of beach where the YWCA counselor, Miss Betty Waters, 25, Miss Jenny Abderian, 22, and Miss Georgiana Abrahamson, 32, were sitting with a group of girls around a campfire. The counselors, all skilled swimmers and trained for rescue work, saw the speedboat overturn and put out immediately in a skiff pulled up on the beach. They got the two men and a boy into the skiff and took them ashore.

The boy was near death when the beach was reached. The rescuers applied artificial respiration until state police from New Buffalo arrived with a resuscitator. The men were given first aid by the YWCA camp nurse, Miss Arlene Stephens of Evanston, Ill.

Cement was used in building the pyramids of Egypt.

The first western irrigation project built by the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation was completed in 1906.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Josephine Neubauer and son, Richard, Mrs. Rose Wardzinski, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sitka and Betty, Jimmy and Jerry, Mrs. David DeLoughary, Mrs. Joseph Urgo and Kathryn Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Gimza, Chicago. Authorization To Draft Men For Service Should Spur Enlistments

THE presidential order authorizing the use of the draft law to meet military needs undoubtedly will spur enlistments in the army, navy and marine corps. That result obviously was the objective of the presidential order. But it also means that if voluntary enlistments do not provide the military requirements the selective service agency can proceed with plans to call registrants for service.

Draft boards are still operating on a part-time, standby basis. A clerk is maintained on a one-day-per-week basis to handle registrations and to keep the records. In many places the boards function even without an office with the registration being handled by the clerk at her residence.

If the necessity for drafting men arises, the boards undoubtedly will be reactivated upon a firmer basis than presently exists.

It is interesting to note that congress haggled for some weeks with the draft extension law. The lawmakers wanted to reserve the right to determine if and when inductions would be ordered under the draft act. As the world peace situation became more clouded, however, congress decided to leave this authority in the hands of the president for speedier action if the situation required it.

We are still uncertain what our military needs in Korea will be. The fattening there is going against us at the moment. It is certain that we will not surrender Korea to the Communists without doing everything in our power to prevent it. That may mean considerably greater numbers of troops than was at first believed to be necessary.

The president has made the right move in authorizing the use of the draft law.

Widening Project Will Pay Dividends

THE second half of the project to widen South 14th street will be started this week by city workmen. The west side of the street was widened last summer by the installation of a three foot strip and new lighting standards were erected on that side of the street. A similar project is planned for the east side of the street this year.

When this project is finished, it will eliminate one of the worst traffic bottlenecks in the city. South 14th street has long been one of the busiest streets in the community. The street has been unusually narrow to carry the heavy traffic. With cars parked on both sides of the street, it has not been possible for two cars to pass in the remaining space. Two safe traffic lanes will be provided, plus parking lanes on either side of the street, when the widening project is finished.

The cost of widening the west side of the street last summer was about $10,000, or about $1,000 a block. A similar expenditure is contemplated this year. The total outlay of $20,000 is an expenditure that is completely justified and an investment that is well worthwhile.

France Can't Afford Skittish Politics

THE French Socialists caused the fall of Premier Georges Bidault's government. They withdrew their backing from the coalition of parties he headed. Their action could hardly have come at a worse time.

On the one hand, Korea is aflame with war and the western nations must take important decisions to combat Russian aggression there. On the other, six-nation parleys on the French-sponsored plan for a pool of Europe's coal and steel resources are just warming up.

No doubt the French are long since weary at being lectured by Americans on how to conduct their affairs. They have to take enough of it as a necessary accompaniment of the economic and military aid they get from us.

But apparently the facts of life in 1950 just won't sink in over there. In bygone days the world looked with amusement upon the frequent flip-flops of French premiers. It was something like the regular Monday morning revolution in a Latin American country.

There's no humor in this sort of performance in today's troubled world; nor is there evidence of political maturity in it. The French still seem to think they are playing some kind of child's game—musical chairs with the premier's seat the prize.

Any seasoned politician in any of the free nations ought to know that the great conflict raging with the Soviet Union (the Cold War) cannot be won unless a solid front is maintained continuously. And solidarity demands stability.

Stable government is a circumstance France has seldom enjoyed. But it is one she had best set about achieving soon if she wants to be taken seriously in the 1950 world. There is no room in the grim age for three to six months' flutters in government. Who can count upon the word of a premier whose power may be stripped away tomorrow?

Apparently the mercurial French are not going to be herded into a few large parties each of which might be capable of governing France alone. Instead they are sticking to their old habit of splitting off into many parties, none strong enough to rule and some so small their membership would hardly fill a single hall.

Fire Prevention Means Carefulness

MICHIGAN conservation officials are keeping a close watch on experimental fire fighting techniques being developed in Ontario. In these experiments, air bombardment of small fires is being tested with five gallon water bags. Ten such bags are dumped ahead of the fire for the purpose of wetting down a strip about 80 feet long to check the fire until a ground crew can get to it.

Every possible new technique in forest fire is worth experimentation, of course, but this procedure does not offer much promise as an effective method of fire control. Its value, if any, is confined to extremely small fires and then only under most favorable flying conditions. Even if the technique is developed to a reasonable degree of effectiveness which is still doubtful, it would require that a plane and crew be constantly available within comparatively close range to answer a call.

In any case, forest fire prevention is always much more important than fire fighting. The need for extreme care when traveling through wooded areas cannot be overemphasized. Never, never drop a lighted cigarette stub or a live match in a forest area. These acts of carelessness start more forest fires and destroy more timber than any other fire cause.

Everybody loses when forests burn.

Mom's Vase

Mom is always ready to forgive a lot of little sins, and her loving heart is melted every time her Junior grins. When he tracks her floors she's not too mad, and punishment is light, and when Father tosses clothes about, she let's him off contrite. But one thing, as Pop and Junior know, would put them in disgrace, and they live in fear lest one of them should break Mom's antique vase.

Now it occupies a special place upon a table throne, and that vase is something Mother sure is mighty proud to own. When the members of her club are there to have their cakes and tea, Mom will burst with pride when other women crowd around to see. Pop and Junior don't quite understand that vase's untold worth, but they know that Mom's convinced that it's the dearest thing on earth.

Once they rough-housed in the parlor but they wrestle there no more, for 'twas then that Junior caught that vase just 'fore it hit the floor. And when Mom arrived to see what almost happened to her prize, what she said to sheepish culprits would be preacher scandalize. She'll forgive them almost anything they do around the place, but they'd never leave the doghouse if they broke Mom's antique vase.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—A general who brandishes a swagger stick and talks in a crisp British accent is catching bricabrats at the Pentagon for whopping intelligence errors on Korea.

He is Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 58, German-born chief of MacArthur's intelligence who has been with him since Manila days. Willoughby copies his boss in both stance and garb, even to the scarf inside the open-throated shirt.

A few weeks before the Korea attack, General Willoughby dismissed Korea as "not important" in talks with visiting firemen from Washington.

"You must keep your eye on the Reds and know that what they will do next," Willoughby pontificated. "You can take it from me, Iran is the place to watch. An attack very soon, old boy."

This was essentially the briefing given Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley in Tokyo. In fact, General Bradley, returning to Washington, was most cautious about committing aid to Korea because of Willoughby's advice. Two errors of judgment laid at General Willoughby's door are:

1. The national security council decision that Korea's threat was to its "internal security." This was made despite a report from General Willoughby's own staff that there were some 70 tanks in North Korea. Tanks are strictly an offensive weapon, and now the key to the Communist successes. Yet Willoughby attached no significance to the presence of these tanks.

2. Overrating the South Korean army. In his first teletype conversations with the Pentagon after the invasion, General MacArthur confidently expected the south-erners to take a firm stand. Actually, the Southern army fell apart in virtually a complete rout. This has dangerously imperiled United Nations supply lines and ports.

NOTE.—To one delegation from Washington, General Willoughby lectured on the importance of prestige in the orient. "It's the way you live, you know, that counts," he declared.

—CAPTURING THE SOUTH—
For years Republicans have been hoping to capture or even make a dent in the solid Democratic South—without success. Now it looks as if they could do it.

Jonathan Daniels, who used to be one of the Roosevelt-Truman secretaries, had a heart-to-heart talk with his old boss in the White House the other day and told him how.

Daniels, who has been one of Truman's most loyal supporters, warned that the administration's continued blind support for the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) was ruining the Democratic party in the South, and would even defeat the best parts of the Truman program in the North.

Daniels, who comes from North Carolina and is the son of Woodrow Wilson's liberal secretary of the navy, gave Truman a case history showing how Sen. Frank Graham, former president of the University of North Carolina and one of the outstanding liberals in the South, had been defeated for the Senate only because of the Negro-FEPC question. He also cited the Senate primary in South Carolina where the two candidates, Gov. Strom Thurmond, Dixiecrat, and Sen. Olin Johnston, both are trying to outdo other in castigating the Negro.

And he indicated that Republican politicians are secretly invading the South to stir up the Negro question in order to elect senators who bear the name "Democrat" but actually will vote Republican. Naturally the more pro-Republicans elected to the Senate—even though bearing the Democratic label—the less chance Truman has to pass his legislative program.

—SMART GOP TACTICS—
It is doubtful if Jonathan Daniels' talk with the president made too much of an impression. Daniels had talked to him before—in Chicago last May and again last fall—without result.

It is also significant that certain Republican leaders, such as Senator Brewster of Maine, who votes for FEPC, have been using FEPC to undermine the Democratic party in the South. It is likewise significant that Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican national committee, made an unadvertised trip to South Carolina the other day where Republicans are secretly backing Gov. Strom Thurmond, former Dixiecrat candidate for president.

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

Q. Which is correct, "A pair of new shoes" or "A new pair of shoes"?

A. An adjective should be next to the word it modifies. It is not the pair that is new, it is the shoes. Therefore:

A pair of new shoes
A glass of cold water
A cup of fresh milk
A set of false teeth.

Q. My boss dictated the sentence, "We enclose certificate evidencing your coverage." Can evidence be used as a verb? I tell him it cannot.

A. Yes. Evidence may be a transitive (acting) verb, meaning (Merriam-Webster's): "to render evident or clear; to constitute or afford evidence of; to prove; evince." Now go right in and apologize to your boss.

Q. In dividing words ending in -sion, -tion, -ion, where should the hyphen fall—contraption, or contrapti-on?

A. A word may be divided as the syllables are divided in the dictionary. For example, the word exhibitionist is syllabified thus: ex-hi-bi-tionist. Therefore, at the end of a line the word may be divided thus:

ex-hibitionist
ex-hi-bitionist
ex-hi-bitionist
exhibitionist

Farm Hormones Boost Milk Output And Also Produce Tastier Fowl

By JOHN A. McWEHY
Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal

CHICAGO—Hormone, the body chemicals which doctors are using to battle disease, are helping farmers to cut costs.

As insulin and "ACTH," hormones have been used against diabetes and arthritis. Now two synthetic cousins are helping to turn out livestock and poultry products at less expense.

Cows given one type—thyroproteins—in their feed are producing 15% more milk and 20% to 25% more butterfat than ones not getting hormones in their diet, according to Quaker Oats Co., largest producer of this hormone feed. Big, conservative Quaker Oats has jumped into the business of producing hormone-fortified cow feed with both feet.

—"Swine-Dine" Report

Fishel Products Co. of Kingsbury, Calif., mixes the same hormone in its new feed, "Swine-Dine." Fishel reports that pigs fed thyroprotein at Purine University gained 1.57 pounds a day, or ordinary feed the gain averaged only 1.20 pounds. Pigs on the hormone diet ate 405 pounds of feed for every 100 pounds gained. It took 417 pounds of regular feed to do the same job.

"Stilbestrol," the other hormone which is finding partisans among farm folks, turns roosters into egg-layers by chemical instead of surgical means—and does it cheaper. Since homonized birds have fewer pinfeathers than ordinary ones by chemical instead of surgery, New York and Los Angeles this amounts to two cents a pound wholesale. Some places it amounts to as much as five cents.

This year, U. S. farmers will probably spend $1 million for these two synthetic hormones. Both were approved by the U. S. Food & Drug Administration shortly after World War II ended. Producers of this type must get government approval before they can be offered to the general public.

There's a vastly broader potential use of hormones on the farm. For one thing, uses will probably be found for other hormones—the two now being sold are thyroid and female sex hormones. All told, there are about 20 different ones known. A dozen or so ductless glands in an animal's body produce these chemicals and secrete them into the blood stream, where they perform as regulators for many major bodily functions.

Big Potential
On a strictly experimental basis, researchers have already discovered other ways in which hormones can help the farmer boost his production or lower his costs.

For example, scientists at Colorado A. & M. College have found that thyroprotein will make wool grow on sheep 13% faster. It has also made chickens lay more eggs and turkeys grow faster. Thyroprotein achieves these results by making the animal's thyroid work faster. Another hormone, "Thiouracil," works just the opposite, and has been used in the Lederle Laboratories of American Cyanamid Co. to make hogs even lazier than usual. Super-lazy porkers turn more of their feed into meat.

Bull Conversions

"Before we get through, we may learn how to use hormones to convert bulls into milk cows," says the research director for one feed firm. "Then, when the cows get too old to be good milkers, we may be able to turn them into beef steers with another hor-mon."

Biochemists—the men who work with hormones—don't think this remark is particularly far-fetched. They note that scientists at the University of Missouri made a buck rabbit produce milk by injecting the proper hormones. Other researchers have used hormones to get cows to give milk without first becoming mothers, the country's largest feed manufacturer, Ralston Purina Co., reports.

As a student nearly two decades ago, Quaker Oats research director, W. R. Graham, hit on the idea that's made hormones important to the dairy industry. He discovered that he could hike a cow's milk and butterfat output by feeding the animal ground thyroprotein glands from other cows. A second discovery, made by researchers at the University of Missouri in 1940, made the idea economically feasible.

Enter Thyroprotein
The Missouri scientists found a cheap substitute for ground-up thyroprotein—iodinated casein. This material, which looks like brown sugar, is made from milk and iodine. Today it sells for $1.60 a pound in quantity. Enough ground-up thyroprotein to equal in potency one pound of iodinated casein, or thyroprotein, would cost around $11 or $12.

Two firms now produce thyroprotein for livestock. The largest is Kansas City's Ceronhyll Laboratories, which is jointly owned by Quaker Oats and American Dairy Inc., Quaker, which distributes all the thyroprotein, which Ceronhyll makes, keeps strictly silent about sales and production figures on this product, which it calls "Protomone." The other producer is Kaufman Products Co. of San Jose, Calif. Kaufman produced 100,000 pounds of "K.I.C." (its trade name for thyroprotein) in 1949 and expects to turn out about the same amount this year. Kaufman sells its output to feed manufacturers for use in their dairy and hog rations.

Quaker estimates that 35,000 cows have gotten a taste of feed containing thyroprotein during the four years this synthetic hormone has been commercially available. That's still only a drop in the bucket, however, compared to the country's dairy cow population of 26 million.

Uncle Johnny Explains

How does thyroprotein boost milk output? Here's the explanation of Uncle Johnny Mills, a Houston, Tex., firm, which sells feed containing the hormone.

"Feeding a cow thyroprotein makes its whole milk-producing mechanism run faster. The cow demands more feed. And a higher proportion of the food the cow eats is converted into milk and butterfat."

Thyroprotein brings biggest returns to farmers when milk and butter fat prices are high. If prices of these products are low, the cost of the hormone and the extra feed consumed make the use of thyroprotein un-economic. The hormone usually produces biggest percentage production gains on cows that give the most milk.

Pake Zwaagstra's experience illustrates how profitable it is under ideal conditions to feed a cow thyroprotein. He has 240 cows, most of which are the heavy milk-producing Holstein breed, on his 15-acre dairy farm near Redondo Beach, Calif.

Farmer Zwaagstra's Test
Farmer Zwaagstra tested "Big Q" (trade name for Quaker's feed containing thyroprotein) on 33 of monthly butterfat output per cow increased by 16 pounds to 52 pounds. With butterfat worth a lofty $1.26 a pound, the extra output returned him $20.16. Each cow ate $6.30 worth of "Big Q" per month and $2 worth of other extra feed. So his net return from using the hormone was $11.86 per cow.

"Another good feature of the hormone is that it cuts the cost of replacing cows which are poor producers," Mr. Zwaagstra says. He explains that the chemical boosts the production of marginal cows so they don't have to be replaced.

The use of thyroprotein in cow feed has some drawbacks, however. Some cows don't respond. Harmful effects can be produced if an animal gets too much of it. Some experts think thyroprotein may shorten bovine life or adversely affect calves from animals that have been fed the hormone.

Stilbestrol Use Growing

Stilbestrol, the hormone that caponizes roosters chemically, will be given to about 12 million birds this year, North Scheffer estimates. It's the exclusive distributor for the hormone product of the Anderson Box Co. of Indianapolis, which is the exclusive distributor for the hormone product of this type, known as "Capettes." It is made by Wick & Fry, Cumberland, Ind., which is the largest among the half dozen or so companies that make or sell this type of hormone product. In 1949, Mr. Scheffer says, about 8 million chickens were treated with stilbestrol. The number is still very small compared to the 700 million chickens that are sold for meat annually.

Synthetic stilbestrol is derived from coal tar. It's put up in small pellets that sell for 2½ to 3 cents each depending on the quantity purchased. The pellets are slipped under the rooster's skin just back of the comb with an implanting tool made of a large hypodermic needle with a plunger to eject the pellet. Two men can treat about 300 birds an hour.

Within three or four weeks, the rooster's comb shrinks and its bright red color fades. The bird stops crowing and fighting. He even ceases strutting. At the same time, his breast broadens and he begins putting on extra fat which infiltrates the muscle tissues making him as tender and juicy as a capon.

Less Costly to Raise

But he costs a lot less to raise than a capon. In surgical caponizing, even experts encounter 5% mortality and about 5% failures. Surgical capons have a delayed growth due to the shock of the operation. In other words, homonized birds reach market size in shorter time and do it on a smaller amount of feed than surgically-produced capons, Capette's distributors claim.

A second major advantage is that homonizing enables growers to give capon qualities to relatively small birds. Capons normally are fed to six pounds or more. The full advantage in extra fat and meat isn't reached until that time. But with hormone pellets, even small 3½ and four pound birds can be made meatier and juicier.

Thoughts

How happy it is to believe, with a steadfast assurance, that our petitions are heard even while we are making them; and how delightful to meet with a proof of it in the effectual and actual grant of them.—Cowper.

Good Evening . . .

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK.—I am just back from one of those long week ends where the people are charming and the food is great and the booze abundant. The television works admirably and the sun shines bright and all's right with the world until about 10 p. m. when the games begin.

It develops today that you are a reasonably lousy weekend guest, unless you play parlor games. I am a reasonably lousy weekend guest. The only parlor sports I ever fancied were craps and kissing contests, such as spin-the-bottle and postoffice, and nobody ever seems to play them any more. They play something called "the game" and charades and canasta, and they get spitting mad at each other when the games are not played correctly. Me, I figure I am too old and tired for games involving adults.

—CRAPS IS GOOD GAME—
Craps is a good sound game employing two dice, which are rolled in such a manner as to produce phenomena like sevens and treys and eights-from-Decatur. If manipulated with a modicum of skill and a maximum of luck, craps afford great excitement and an occasional yield of useful cash.

Kissing games were profitable, too, in the old days, since they occasionally afforded you the opportunity of hanging a sanctified smooch on an elusive lady. If the smooch was draped vehemently enough there was a chance that it would develop into a more exclusive and lasting arrangement. However, in a day when everybody kisses everybody else hello, and the word "darling" has lost all significance, spin-the-bottle is sneered at and the postman doesn't even ring once in the hallowed pastime of postoffice.

—AND CHARADES
So we have charades. Full-grown people with bald heads and bulges go to great lengths to devise pantomimes of catch phrases and clichés and titles and seamy adages. There are rigid rules to the presentation of these mysterious dumb crambos. The participants crawl on the floor and wiggle their ears and leap over furniture to demonstrate the text without uttering a sound. They point fingers to indicate that the questioners are getting warm, shake heads, waggle fingers, shrug shoulders, roll eyes and quiver violently.

Out of this social epilepsy you are supposed, finally, to come up with the answer. I recall that I was given the play title, "Green Pastures," to set before the assembly, and got nowhere at all with it. It is hard to plow up a broadloom rug realistically, and, apart from making motions like a senile matron, I could think of no wiggles or waggles to demonstrate "green." Also, my heart wasn't in it.

—GAVE UP CANASTA—
I quit cold on canasta, and as for "the game" it appears to me as a suitable sport for minor league morons. This is the one in which you represent somebody living or dead, and if you happen to be Paul Revere, you mumble that you were up late on a horse, ringing doorbells and otherwise incurring the enmity of the yeomanry. I am also a bum at 20 questions, and at games where everybody squats around the fireplace inventing adjectives and nouns to be filled in on a blank-spelled essay.

I recent games as I resent television in the living room. The art of conversation, God knows, has already degenerated into a flimsy scaffold of its former self, and now is a skeleton of stock phrases like "You're So Right, Sweetie," and little screams and snorts. A million good books go unread while the guests watch the razzies on the TV screen.

Before canasta it was gin rummy and before gin it was bridge games and before that it was solitaire, and I claim that solitaire is the lowest form of cerebral debauchery. Anyone who is so mentally impoverished that he has to play cards himself is a dull dog, indeed, because cheating is no fun unless you are inflicting it on somebody else.

On subsequent weekends and evenings, I serve notice, I will be an admirable guest. I will not pinch the hostess, criticize the food, abuse the servants, or indulge in fist fights with the other guests. But when the games begin, Buster heads for the cellar, where they hide the books nowadays. In the face of charades and canasta, literature has gone underground.

Need Loyalty Of Asians To Win Over Communists

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—The fire fighting operation in Korea tends from day to day and almost from hour to hour to get out of hand. Yet, it is in that frame of reticence—putting out a local fire with the fire apparatus readily available—that Pentagon planners want to keep the war.

The fire chief on the scene is General MacArthur. He is responding to one alarm after another. But for additional resources, as they become necessary, he must call on headquarters in Washington.

CHILDS

When MacArthur decides that major additions to America's troop strength in Korea are necessary, some difficult decisions will have to be made here in Washington. For the additional forces cannot be found in Japan. That is to say they could not be moved out of the army of occupation unless they were replaced by other troop units. It is interesting to note that the original decision to throw American strength into Korea was made on the confident assumption it would not be necessary to use American troops.

As the call for more men comes from MacArthur, some degree of mobilization will be necessary. And that is a step the administration cannot postpone very long. Planning as of today is for a six months operation.

Unprepared in Far East
In a series of articles in the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, Carl McCordle, just back from Korea and Tokyo, makes plain how unprepared military men in the Far East were for the Communist attack. McCordle, an able and conscientious reporter, says that in South Korea there was a determined complacency about the military menace of the Communists. And this was true in spite of reports of the massing of troops and tanks in North Korea. Colonel Sterling Wright, acting commander of the American military advisory group of 500 in South Korea, said our Korean intelligence was so good that we knew 24 hours in advance every move the North Koreans had in mind. He expressed the view that there would be sufficient warning on an attack so that mines could be laid to stop any Communist tanks which might get through.

So strong was this confidence in the highest military quarters in Tokyo that the invasion was considered to be no more than a raid in strength for the first 24 hours. The North Koreans would retreat as soon as they met effective resistance.

It is easy—far too easy—to blame our professionals and "experts" for not warning us of the danger. The fact is that we did not want to see the danger. Something like a conspiracy of optimism existed from the top, with President Truman talking about how peace was nearer than at any time in the past five years, all down the line.

Time Of Danger
In this space at the end of May I pointed out the danger of our becoming preoccupied with a quarrel over who was responsible for the mistakes of the past. I quoted the words spoken by Winston Churchill in England's gravest hour in June of 1940: "If the past undertakes to sit in judgment on the present, then the future will be lost."

It seemed to me, as I said then, the present is a time of danger at least as great as June of 1940 when a totalitarian enemy had overwhelmed so much of the free world. Even inside the government, to say nothing of public opinion, there was too little agreement on the course to be followed. And optimistic and sometimes boasting statements were a substitute for vital decisions and action urgently required.

The Korean attack brought a

But if we are to win in the struggle with Communism, one is almost as important as the other. To resist the armed Communist enemy is obviously vital. It is nearly as important to win the loyalty of Asian peoples who have lived so long at a submerged level. If they once get the idea that we are interested solely in force, then no amount of force that we can bring to bear will be sufficient to hold the line for a civilization based on the freedoms of the West. It is late as the Korean war has shown. But perhaps it is not too late to try to understand the meaning of what is happening in Asia.

Chatham Seeks Better Fruits

Feature Subject At Farmers' Roundup

How to get better yields of fruit in Northern Michigan will be one of the interesting features of the Farmers' Round-Up, according to Russell E. Horwood, supervisor of the Upper Peninsula experiment station. The Round-Up is scheduled for Friday, August 4 at Chatham.

Considerable interest has been shown in fruit varieties that are sufficiently hardy to stand Northern Michigan weather. Norman Reath, horticulturist at Chatham, conducts a number of test each year to find new information on suitable varieties. He emphasizes the need for choosing the right variety of fruit.

Strawberries, he states, have a place in the U. P., both commercially and in the home garden. Generally, most varieties of strawberries need some mulching material to protect them in the winter. The old favorites, Robinson and Premier, are still recommended.

Visitors at the Round-Up will be able to see plantings of many small fruits. The orchard includes nearly 40 varieties of apple trees. Several new varieties of apples and plums have been added in recent years for experimental purposes.

A tour under the leadership of Norman Reath will leave the office at 10:00 and continue until 12:00. Plots featuring the home garden, and experimental plots of early tomatoes, sweet corn, beans and strawberries and raspberries, early vegetable production trials and week control plots. Farm families are invited to bring a basket lunch for noon. A limited number of meals will be available at the 4-H Club stand and at Camp Shaw.

City Of Birmingham Hard On Communists Who Have No Jobs

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (P) — Birmingham is making it tough on known Communists without visible means of support.

The chairman of the party in Alabama, Sam Hall, Jr., was arrested Saturday on charges of vagrancy and other arrests will follow, said Public Safety Commissioner E. C. Connor.

He estimated there are about 100 Communists in the Birmingham area.

Arrests will be confined to those against whom vagrancy charges can be pressed, he said. "Unfortunately," he added, "I won't be able to arrest those who have a visible means of support."

Hall was taken at his home. He told officers he was Southern editor of the Daily Worker, Communist party organ.

Police also arrested Paul Thomas Rose, alias Rosenbloom, 23, on charges of vagrancy and of charging his name to conceal his identity. He was listed as a native of Lakeland, N. J.

Both men were later freed on bond for trial tonight.

Rose was arrested while passing out circulars protesting U. S. intervention in Korea. Detective Captain C. L. Pierce reported. He said Rose admitted being a member of the Communist party.

Arresting officers said Hall's home was a "regular warehouse of Communist propaganda."

Wife, 30, Shot Dead Spying On Husband In Mountain Cabin

BREWSTER, N. Y. — (P) — A 30-year-old New York woman was shot fatally early today as she tracked her husband and a wealthy woman friend to a secluded mountain cabin in quest of divorce evidence.

Mrs. Andrew Gehr, a refugee from Germany, was the victim. Her estranged husband, Herbert, 39, a television director for the American Broadcasting Company, was charged with murder. His companion, Mrs. Dorothea Matthews, 30, was held for questioning.

Mrs. Matthews has been involved for two years in a sensation divorce battle with her wealthy husband, Mark, owner of a New York city messenger service.

State police said Gehr opened fire with a .22 rifle when his wife, a friend and four private detectives rattled the door of the Birch Hill cottage in the nearby town of Patterson about 1:30 a. m. (EST).

Mrs. Gehr died instantly. Two of the detectives were slightly wounded. Gehr and Mrs. Matthews drove rapidly away. They were arrested by police of Armonk, Westchester county, less than two hours later.

Police quoted Gehr as saying he fired because he thought the cabin was being approached by prowlers.

Detroit Dog-Walker Proves To Be Burglar

DETROIT — (P) — It wasn't entirely love of animals that made Herman E. Taylor, 26, take his landlady's two dogs out for nighttime strolls. A little something else was involved.

Taylor, Police Sgt. Philip Caplis said, admitted having had the two animals along when he burglarized a home of a camera projector, women's clothing and other equipment.

"People never suspect a kindly fellow who gets up at night to take his dogs for a walk," Taylor explained.

The young man was nabbed by police after neighbors reported having seen a man out strolling with a cocker spaniel and a scottie.

Newaygo Farmer Kills Wife And Himself; Shoots At Two Sons

GRANT, Mich. — (P) — A Newaygo county farmer killed his estranged wife and himself early today and fired a blast at his two fleeing young sons after a reconciliation attempt went awry.

A neighbor found the bodies of Gilbert Davis and his wife, Florence, both 55, at their farm home four miles northwest of here.

The couple had been separated about three weeks, according to Newaygo Sheriff Robert Hart. He said the two terrified boys, Bud, 13, and Wayne, 9, told him their father came to the house to plead with their mother to take him back.

She had agreed, the boys said, but an argument developed. The boys said Davis fired a shotgun blast at them as they fled from the house, but missed.

He then apparently fired the gun on himself. Coroner Harold McKinley gave a verdict of murder and suicide.

Three Dead, 32 Hurt In Greenville, Ill. Auto-Bus Collision

GREENVILLE, Ill. — (P) — Three persons were killed and 32 were injured in a collision yesterday of an automobile and a Greyhound bus which overturned and scattered all but one of its 40 passengers in a cornfield.

The bus was split open and its top sheared off as it rolled over. Driver John L. Burk of Indianapolis said he was traveling "at about usual speed" when he approached an intersection a mile south of here and saw the car crossing the highway "a split second before the crash."

Woman Will Climb Mountain At Age Of 91

GRAND RAPIDS — (P) — Like a great many people, Mrs. Rosa B. Kellogg of Grand Rapids has "always wanted to climb a mountain."

Now that she has a chance she isn't going to let the fact she's 91 stand in the way of realizing her ambition.

Mrs. Kellogg plans to climb her mountain in Alaska this summer. She expects to leave from Chicago July 13 on a travel tour.

"My friends seem to be worried about my going," said Mrs. Kellogg as she went about packing for the trip.

"But I feel fine," she declared, "why should I stay home when I love to travel?"

DENMARK, S. C. — (P) — Five Negroes were killed when a sea-board airline train demolished their car on a railroad crossing near here yesterday.

The appointments: 2nd Lt. George C. Anderson of Gladstone; Earl O. Griffith of Marquette; Norman L. M. Manninen of Marquette; Chester P. Pawlowski of Munising; Edward J. Trombley of Marquette; and warrant officer (JG) Charles R. Barry of Sault Ste. Marie.

New Latin American Saint Is Canonized By Pope Pius XII

VATICAN CITY — (P) — Pope Pius XII raised Maria Anna De Paredes to sainthood yesterday for offering her life 300 years ago so plague-stricken Equadoreans might be spared.

Some 40,000 persons, including 10 cardinals and 50 bishops, attended the canonization in St. Peter's Basilica—seventh and last of the 1950 Holy Year. Among the witnesses were the Most Rev. Carlo De La Torre, archbishop of Quito, and 450 Equadorean pilgrims.

Maria, known as the "Lily of Quito," died in a plague in 1645, when only 26, after praying that her life be taken and the people of Quito spared. The Pope fixed May 26, anniversary of her death, as the date on which the new saint is to be revered.

The pontiff urged modern youth to admire and, where possible, imitate the "sublime example" of the new saint.

Maria is the second Latin American to be elevated. She joins the Peruvian saint, "Rose of Lima."

The canonization ceremony was interrupted when a short-circuit fire broke out on a cornice of the church. Vatican firemen climbed 75 feet above the Pope's head to quell the blaze.

Dock Worker Saved From Hudson River By One-Legged Man

HOBOKEN, N. J. — (P) — A one-legged man dove 25 feet into the narrow space between a ship and a moving barge last night to rescue a man from the water.

Vincenzo Marino, 60-year-old Longshoreman, fell into the 21-foot space between a freighter and a barge he was helping to unload. The barge was moving slightly.

Sam Sansever, who lost his right leg when he was four years old, was standing on the deck of the freighter. He unfasted his artificial limb, dived in, held Marino's head above the murky Hudson river waters until help came.

Then he put his leg on again and resumed his job of checking the freighter cargo. Marino was injured slightly.

Reds Tie Up 7 Americans And Murder Them

MacArthur said there was evidence the morale of the North Korean Communists was slipping under the heavy pressure applied by Allied warplanes which yesterday began around the clock attacks on them.

Some 46 enemy tanks, trapped on a highway near Chonan, were knocked out by the low flying planes yesterday, front line dispatches said.

MacArthur said light bombers from the Fifth Air Force performed close support and bombed troops, vehicles, tanks and trucks with reported good results.

Secret Bomb Used
Napalm, the firebomb, was used with reported excellent results, the general's communique said. Napalm is a secret soap like mixture that splatters flaming gasoline when the bomb bursts.

The advance of the North Korean troops on the populous western side of the Korean peninsula carried them to within 20 air miles of Taejon. MacArthur said the Reds were at Chochiwon, a rail junction.

Taejon is the temporary capital of the South Korean government.

But even as these reverses were reported, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer said in a Tokyo interview that combined air, sea and ground forces of the allies had stopped the Communist drive that had rolled relentlessly for two weeks.

Stratemeyer, FEAF commander, said in an interview allied warplanes knocked out 123 North Korean tanks and destroyed or damaged 640 other ground transport vehicles in the first 15 days of fighting.

Stratemeyer reported allied losses for the 15 days were 20 combat planes and five transports. Nine American airmen were killed, five wounded and 12 are missing.

Huge Convoy Gathers At San Diego With Troops For Korea War

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — (P) — With the Navy dropping the secrecy curtain on some activities, a huge convoy is being readied at this port, apparently to carry troops and equipment to Korea.

In port today are the 12,000-ton escort carrier Badoeng Strait, the transport General A. E. Anderson, a cargo ship and four destroyers. The Badoeng Strait was detached from maneuvers in Hawaii last week. Although the Navy wouldn't say, it was presumed the carrier may ferry planes to the far east.

Flavors of tanks, tractors and other heavy gear arrived yesterday from Camp Pendleton Marine base.

Hay Loading Fork Kills Farmer's Son

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. — (P) — His spine pierced by the fork of a hay loading machine, Walter Lewis Modro, 24, died in Mercy hospital here early today.

Modro was injured Saturday afternoon while at work on the farm of his father, John Modro, near Bridgman. The loading device fell from a barn rafter, pinning young Modro to the floor one of the sharp prongs went through his back, cutting the spinal column.

Military Tank Hits Auto; Banker Killed, Two Others Injured

MILFORD, Del. — (P) — A military tank, thrown off course by a faulty caterpillar track, smashed into the rear of an automobile yesterday killing a prominent Delaware mortgage banker and injuring his wife and chauffeur.

Killed was Thomas Bayard O'Toole, 54. His wife, Charlotte, and the chauffeur, Robert Wilson, were taken to Milford Memorial hospital.

The tank was part of a convoy of Washington, D. C., National Guardsmen. It was en route to Fort Miles, Del., for summer maneuvers.

The impact of the collision was so great that O'Toole was thrown from the rear seat against the windshield of his car. The 30-ton tank careened across the highway, knocked down a telephone pole before stopping.

Plane Plunge Kills 21 At Casablanca

CASABLANCA, French Morocco — (P) — Twenty-one persons were killed in the crash of a French passenger plane soon after it took off from Casablanca airport yesterday.

Nine surviving passengers were injured, eight of them critically. A woman and her child living near the crash scene were burned severely when a blazing piece of wreckage fell on their house.

All those aboard the plane, a DC-3 on a flight from Paris to Dakar, were French. The plane was operated by Aigle-Azur (Blue Eagle) line.

It was the fourth French air crash in less than a month and brought to more than 100 the number of dead in those disasters.

Grand Rapids Stores Report Hoarding

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — (P) — Grocers reported heavy buying in commodity items in the past few days apparently stemming from public fear over the Korean war.

Several retailers said that unusual quantities of meat, sugar, and coffee had been sold since the fighting began.

Top Labor Leaders To Discuss Manpower Needs In Washington

WASHINGTON — (P) — Top American labor leaders will discuss the nation's manpower requirements tomorrow with W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National security resources board.

Steve Leo, assistant to Symington, said the meeting is "in no way an urgent one," and was scheduled before the Korean crisis started. "Naturally, the Korean situation will have its effect on the meeting," he added.

Representatives of the AFL, CIO, Machinists Union, United Mine Workers and Railroad Trainmen will attend the session. Leo said it is one of several which have been held "from time to time with officials of labor and management to discuss security matters."

Indiana Man Named Undersecretary Of Agriculture Today

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman today nominated Clarence J. McCormick of Indiana to be undersecretary of agriculture.

He succeeds A. J. Loveland who resigned to enter the senatorial race in Iowa.

McCormick is president of the Knox county farm bureau and is a member of the board of directors of the Indiana farm bureau.

The national farm bureau federation has been a sharp critic of the controversial farm plan advocated by secretary of agriculture Brame.

Bloodhound Keeper Escapes At Prison; Dogs Can't Find Him

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — (P) — The keeper of the bloodhounds at the Tennessee state prison escaped yesterday, but the bloodhounds couldn't track him down.

Charles Lemming, about 30, a trustee serving 12 years for house-breaking and larceny, walked away from his job, guards said.

The hounds picked up his trail, all right. But it led to a dead end—Lemming had gotten into a car. He's still at large.

Coaches Derailed

WINDFALL, Ind. — (P) — Six coaches of a Pennsylvania passenger train were derailed east of here early this morning and three persons were hurt. The injured were brought to Mercy hospital here. Their condition was reported not serious. The accident was caused by a defective wheel on one car of the 12-coach train.

1950 Census Reveals Youths Leave Upper Peninsula For Big Cities

Michigan's youth is turning its back on the north country in favor of life in the big cities. That is one explanation at least, for the declining population of Northern Michigan.

Of the state's 83 counties, only 17 showed decreases in the past 10 years, according to tentative figures released this week by the Census bureau office — but all 17 counties are located in the Upper Peninsula or the northern portion of the Lower Peninsula. Eleven of the counties which lost ground are located above the Straits, which means that only four Northern Peninsula counties showed an increase in the number of residents over the past decade. The six Lower Peninsula counties are all north of Saginaw bay.

Other Factors Cited

It's difficult to single out the major factor in this shift in population, but none will doubt that many of the Northern Peninsula's younger element have migrated to the larger cities like Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee, where greater diversity of industry offers more varied employment opportunities. Large numbers of Upper Peninsula residents left their homeland during the war to enter the service or to work in factories downstate and presumably a substantial proportion of them declined to return permanently.

A number of other factors are cited to account for the population trend away from the Peninsula. Among them: depleted industries, such as lumbering; continued introduction of labor-saving devices, particularly in the mining industry, and reduction in the number of active farms. Census officials reported numerous abandoned farms in the 11th census district, which covers the western half of the Upper Peninsula.

Keweenaw Paradox

A paradoxical situation was noted in Keweenaw county where the number of dwelling units had increased since 1940 while the population had decreased. This apparent contradiction posed a mystery until it was established that the new buildings were nearly all summer homes whose owners could not be included in Keweenaw's population total.

A summary of other information uncovered as a result of the 17th decennial census shows that:

1. The population of the Upper Peninsula skidded down 24,999 or about eight per cent from 323,344 persons in 1940 to 298,345 this year, while the population of the state as a whole was boosted 20.2 per cent or 1,064,579, for a total of 6,320,635 in 1950. It was the second greatest 10-year population increase in the state's history.
2. Marquette county was catapulted into the position of the Peninsula's most populous county when Houghton county's population plunged from 47,631 to 39,525, a reduction of 8,106 residents in 10 years and the sharpest drop registered by an county in the state. Marquette county could also lay claim to being the Peninsula's most stabilized in terms of population. Its increase of 140 persons from 47,144 to 47,284 in the 10-year period was the slightest registered in either direction by any county in the U. P. Chippewa county, with a gain of 1,082 persons, showed the biggest increase.

U. P. Population Picture

Dickinson	24,630	26,731	2,101

3. Sault Ste. Marie displaced Marquette as the most heavily populated city north of the Straits. The Soo's population jumped 1,849 from 15,847 to 17,696 to give the Locks City 371 more persons than Marquette, which listed 17,325. In 1940, Marquette had 15,923 residents, only 81 more than lived in the Soo.

One authority attributes the Soo's great increase partially to the fact that its expansion "has been entirely within the boundaries of the city." This source points out that Marquette's expansion, meanwhile, has been outside the boundaries of the city proper and says that if the populations of Chocolay (1,109) and Marquette (1,287) townships were added to the city's figures, Marquette's population would stand at 19,721.

4. The number of cities in the Upper Peninsula with populations in excess of 10,000 dropped from six to five when Iron Mountain mustered 9,578, as compared with 11,080 in 1940. Third largest Upper Peninsula city is Escanaba with a population of 14,814, or 16 less than the 14,830 recorded 10 years ago. Despite a decrease of 1,563, largest reported for any Peninsula city, Ironwood showed a population of 11,506 against 13,369 in 1940 to retain its hold on fourth place. Menominee, with an increase of 877 in its populace, took over fifth place from Iron Mountain. The Peninsula's southernmost city boasted 11,077 residents this year. It had 10,230 in 1940.

5. Keweenaw county suffered a population loss of 1,913 to remain the least populated county in the U. P. Its residential roster slipped from 4,004 to 2,051.

6. The six Lower Peninsula counties with less residents now than 10 years ago were Missaukee, Kalkaska, Presque Isle, Cheboygan, Manistee and Antrim. None of them lost as many persons as did eight of the 11 U. P. counties which experienced population reductions.

Selling U. P. Community Is Regional Job

Despite the difficulty of getting municipal officials to coordinate their activities, the job of selling a community—especially in the Upper Peninsula—is, "first of all an area job," Don Weeks, director of the Michigan Economic Development Department, declares.

"Selling his community is part of a city official's job of serving it," Weeks said, but urged all municipalities in the Upper Peninsula to work together through the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau to bring industries into the area.

"Through such cooperation lies the best chance for any city in the 15-county area to get new industry," Weeks explained. He pointed out that services of the department's Upper Peninsula field representative, Arne Ervast of Laurium, are available in helping communities with their work on industrial prospects. Ervast can be contacted at any time through the Development Bureau office in Marquette.

Miss Vannberg
Is The Bride Of
Carroll Lundeen

In a candlelight wedding service at 7:30 Saturday evening, July 8, at Bethany Ev. Lutheran church, Miss Marguerite Vannberg, daughter of Mrs. Theodore Vannberg, became the bride of Carroll J. Lundeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lundeen of Annandale, Minnesota. The service was read by Rev. Gustav Lund.

Tall standards holding peonies, snapdragons and gladioli were arranged with potted palms and the candelabra to form the setting for the service.

The bride was attended by Miss Virginia Lundeen, sister of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, and Miss Jeanette Anderson was bridesmaid. Kermit Lundeen served as his brother's best man and Robert Vannberg and Paul L. Bureau were ushers.

A violin recital of bridal music was played by Dwight Peerman of Annandale as the guests were being seated and preceding the processional Floyd Brown of Annandale sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Brocaded Lace
The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Arne Sviland, wore a gown of white brocaded lace over satin and a veil of bridal illusion edged in lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and snapdragons with a lacy bouffant arrangement of maline. The maid of honor wore white over yellow satin and Miss Anderson's gown was white over lavender. Both carried cascade bouquets of rubrum lilies and maline.

Mrs. Vannberg wore a black sheer with matching accessories and Mrs. Lundeen wore a brown silk print. Red roses formed the mothers' corsages.

A wedding dinner was served preceding the ceremony at 3:30 at the Delta Hotel for immediate members of both families. The centerpiece for the dinner was a low arrangement of rubrum lilies and white snapdragons. Floral decorations of white and pink snapdragons, rubrum lilies and baby mums were used for the reception for 200 guests held in the church parlors following the wedding service. The traditional wedding cake centered the bridal table.

Wedding Guests
The newlyweds left on a trip to an unannounced destination. They will live in Escanaba. Both are employed at the Fair Store. The bride attended Bowling Green state university and Mr. Lundeen attended the University of Minnesota.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lundeen, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Lundeen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lundeen, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lundeen, Henry Lundeen, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Peerman, Miss Virginia Lundeen and Miss Joyce Lundeen of Annandale, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dausey, Mrs. Clara Roberts, Arthur Delon, Mrs. Alfred Peterson and James Fisher of Chicago.

Fisherman Devises
Pay As You Go Plan

ALTON, Ill. — (AP) — Elmer Chamberlain, a commercial fisherman, has worked out his own pay-as-you-go plan. Each time he uses the outboard motor on his boat, he puts aside a quarter toward a new motor. His put-put system, so far, has paid for five new motors.

Alice Dahl And
Walter Mokszycke
Married Here

Bouquets of peonies were arranged on the altars of Bethany Ev. Lutheran church for the wedding Saturday afternoon, July 8, at 2 of Miss Alice Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Posenke, Bark River Route One, and Walter Mokszycke of Escanaba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mokszyck of Harris.

The vows were spoken before Rev. Gustav Lund. Miss Ruth Glad played the bridal procession and recessional and accompanied Miss Carol Ann Heidenreich who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Mrs. Richard Loeffler, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and Miss Geraldine Fillion, bridesmaid. The bridegroom was attended by Richard Loeffler, Groomsman was Lawrence Derish, and ushering the guests to their places were Francis Dittich, cousin of the bride, and Wallace Dahl, her brother.

Bridal Gown
The bride who was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of white rayon satin which she designed and made herself. The gown had a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long tapering sleeves and a full skirt which formed a court train. Her fingertip veil was edged with lace matching the edging of the sleeve points and was gathered to a crown of seed pearls. She carried white roses centered with an orchid.

The maid of honor wore pink net over taffeta and the bridesmaid blue nylon over taffeta. Their headpieces were of matching shade and they carried colonial bouquets.

Mrs. Posenke attended her daughter's wedding in an aqua print with which she wore white accessories and the bride's grandmother wore a navy blue print. Mrs. Mokszycke wore a teal blue dress with white accessories. Matching corsages of roses completed their ensembles.

BILL THRIFTY'S DIARY

Monday:
The boys went to a birthday party Monday night, and Mary and I had a chance to catch up on our reading. Never believed our home could be so quiet.

Tuesday:
A business acquaintance of mine said yesterday that the true test of any investment is: Will a bank accept it as collateral for a loan? Guess he's right.

Wednesday:
Spent a rather foolish but delightful evening with Mary. We just sat on the front porch in the moonlight and reminisced about our school days.

Thursday:
Speaking of how good it is to have friends, one of the best friends a man can have is an account in a responsible savings institution.

Friday:
Mary tells me that there are no national holidays on Friday until 1952. But to me every Friday is a cause for celebration. It means another deposit in my savings account.

Saturday:
After getting the garden chores done I took Mary and the children for an automobile ride.

'It's Springtime' Say Area Guests

Rush Of Tourists Began July First

"It's just like spring up here," is a comment receptionists at Manistique Tourist Information Bureau hear many times a day.

The backward spring, which has been so generally deplored and which raised little less than havoc with the area's June tourist business, appears now to be a big asset to the Manistique area.

Many hundreds of that vanguard of holiday guests who were detained at the Straits for hours, spent the holidays in Schoolcraft county. The number of tourists continues to be heavy and while resorts are still far from crowded, the number of summer guests is about the same as last year for this time and reservations are in excess of last year.

Hot weather in the Chicago and Detroit areas, coupled with the fact that fishing here is at its best, gives promise of a season on a par with that of any in past years.

Helen McLaughlin Works Abroad For State Department

Miss Helen McLaughlin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John F. McLaughlin, of Manistique left Sunday for New York City, from there she will leave Tuesday by plane for Europe to take a position with the U. S. State Department in Germany.

Before going to Germany, she will study German and contemporary European history at a summer session of the University of Fribourg, in Fribourg, Switzerland. She recently completed a semester of special study at her alma mater, the College of Saint Teresa, in Winona, Minnesota.

Before going to Winona last January, Helen was employed for a number of years as a news writer for the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune. In Germany, she will be assigned to the State Department's public relations division in Frankfurt.

Briefly Told

Planning Club—The Manistique Township Planning Club will meet at the Manistique township hall on Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Boat Blessing Rites July 16

Colorful Ceremony To Be At Fayette

Over 100 boats will gather at Fayette harbor on Big Bay de Noc near Manistique, on July 16, for the colorful annual blessing of the boats ceremony. That will include both fishing boats and pleasure craft from all over the great lakes. Special recognition will be given to the boat traveling the longest distance.

The ritual of the blessing ceremony will be held on the deck of the government boat U.S.S. P.C.E. 902, commanded by Lt. Norman A. Graven. The Most Rev. Bishop Thomas L. Noa, D. D., will officiate at the ceremonies which will be held at 1:30 p. m.

The solemn high field mass will begin at 11:00 a. m. The popular St. Cecilia choir of Escanaba, comprising over fifty voices under the direction of Rev. Louis Cappel will sing the mass.

Thousands of visitors are expected to attend the ceremony as this is one of the most colorful events of the summer season. Accommodations of all kinds are available in this area at the very top of Lake Michigan.

City Council To Hold Session This Evening

The Manistique city council will hold a regular meeting this evening.

According to City Manager Harold Heideman, very little outside of routine matters is on the agenda. Proposed changes in ordinance regulations and garbage disposal are the chief items up for consideration.

It is hardly likely that this session will be as long drawn out as the past two which lasted until nearly midnight.

The sessions begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Wanna see the 1950 Green Bay Packers without going to Green Bay? Gene (Tuffy) Ronzani, the new Packer coach, is bringing his squad "home" to Iron Mountain fans Saturday night, Aug. 19 for an intrasquad exhibition game. It will be played under the lights at Kingsford high school field. More than 5,000 fans will be on hand.

Add to your list of Upper Peninsula athletes graduating to "big time" coaching the name of Leonard (Ookie) Brumm, graduate of Graveret high school of Marquette in 1944. Brumm has been named head hockey and tennis coach at the University of Wyoming at Laramie. He recently was graduated from the University of Michigan where he was on the varsity tennis and hockey teams. He played on the Marquette Sentinel hockey team after the war.

Our old boss, Ted Smits, now sports editor of the vast Associated Press, has just completed a visit to the A. G. Spalding company plant that makes baseballs to find out about the "livelier ball." He says it is made the same as usual but that materials are up to prewar standard. Credits the home run barges on shorter fences, more shacks on the pitchers, more haters swinging from the heels, and batters using lighter bludgeons (thereby getting velocity).

University of Michigan football team apparently picked up a top notch prospect in Eugene Knutson, all-state Wisconsin end from Beloit, who is six feet four and weighs 210 pounds. Knutson, only 17, probably will cause some screaming with his statement that he picked Michigan because they "showed the most interest in me." Many other schools were after him.

Look who pops up as manager of the Superior team in the Northern league (class C). None other than Red Kress, who played with Detroit, White Sox, Browns, Washington and Boston in the American league and the Giants in the National.

What is near to the all time high (or low) in silly statements is that of Shirley May France, the buxom gal trying to swim the English channel again for some unknown reason. Says Shirley May: "I'd work out in a blizzard if I thought it would help me get across that watery enemy of mine!"

That ought to keep you laughing a while.

Cubs Beat Gladstone Legion In 14 Frames

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Legion and Escanaba Cubs hooked up in a brilliant 12-inning pitching duel here Sunday before Escanaba eked out a 2-1 victory.

Red LaLonde pitched the complete route for Gladstone, allowing eight hits and striking out 15. Fred Boddy, Jr., pitched eight innings and was relieved by Jack Christie in the ninth after he had walked Lowell LaPlante, Gladstone left fielder.

3-Run Homer In Ninth Fails For Gladstone

MARQUETTE—Despite a three run homer in the ninth inning by Mel Rothschild, Gladstone third baseman, the Gladstone Redskins were noosed out 9-8 by Marquette Legion in a Rainbow league inter-sectional game here Sunday.

Gladstone's defeat came as a result of a four run Marquette rally in the eighth inning, which broke a 5-5 tie.

The Redskins had plenty of difficulty with "Mag" Magnuson, Marquette pitcher. They got only seven hits off him, including Rothschild's homer and Larry LaPlant's triple, but they went down swinging 19 times.

Rothschild's homer and single topped his team's batting while Olson and Deegan paced Marquette with three hits each.

Trenary Hurler Allows 2 Hits

TRENARY—Trenary gave Russ Druckenmiller a three run lead in the first inning here Sunday and he pitched superb ball all the way to defeat Diorite, 3-2, in a Rainbow league game.

Druckenmiller allowed only two hits, both of them doubles by Oja and Grund. Diorite's two runs came in the seventh inning.

Two of Trenary's five hits were doubles by Vincent Trotter, centerfielder, and Don Hapalla, shortstop.

Boston (Braves, That Is) Getting Pennant Fever

(By The Associated Press)

The word "pennant" is back in the vocabulary of the good folks up Boston way today. They're not referring to the Red Sox. But to Billy Southworth's Braves.

Billy the Kid's third place warriors are only two games out of first place. They have won 17 of their last 25 games, for a roaring .680 clip. Less than a month ago — June 14th to be exact — the Braves trailed the pack by six and one half games.

Pitching has put the Braves where they are. In the beginning Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain carried the load. Then Vern Bickford got into the picture, and recently Bob Chipman began to click to give Southworth his long desired "Big Four."

The Braves inched to within two games of the pace-setting Philadelphia Phils yesterday as Bickford turned in a brilliant 3-2, 13-inning victory over the New York Giants.

Bickford limited the Giants to eight hits and only three walks and won on some daring base running by Sam Jethroe. Jethroe opened the last of the 13th against Sal Maglie with a double and stole third, his third steal of the game and 24th of the season. One out later Maglie intentionally walked Earl Torgeson. Sid Gordon followed with a grounder to Maglie who bluffed Jethroe back to third and then attempted an inning ending double play. Maglie's throw to Ed Stanky was slow and Jethroe, who injured his left instep in his steal of third, limped across the plate with the winning run as Gordon beat Stanky's relay to first. The Phils were trounced, 7-3, by the Brooklyn Dodgers but maintained their one game edge over St. Louis. The cards dropped a 3-2, decision to the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates. Erv Palica, making his first start since July of 1948, tamed the Phils on five hits.

Pittsburgh gained its third straight victory over the Cardinals by scoring twice in the seventh inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit.

The pennant race in the American league tightened as the Cleveland Indians knocked off the league-leading Detroit Tigers twice, 6-2 and 5-2 before 54,299 fans in Detroit. The defeats cut the Tigers' margin over the runner-up New York Yankees to three games. The Yanks tripped the Boston Red Sox, 3-1.

Lefty Eddie Lopat scattered nine Red Sox hits to post his 10th victory before 53,097 fans in Yankee stadium. Lopat blanked the Sox until the eighth when successive singles by Birdie Tietts, Billy Goodman and Dom DiMaggio produced the lone Boston run.

St. Louis tied the Philadelphia Athletics for seventh place by beating the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, while the A's split a twin bill with the Washington Senators. The A's won the opener 6-5, but lost the nightcap, 2-0.

Shem Lollar started for the Browns, driving out a homer and double, batting in a run and scoring three.

Billy Hitchcock and Sam Chapman teamed up to bring the A's victory before a slim turnout of 4,131 at Shibe park. Hitchcock drove across three runs on three singles and Chapman knocked home two on an inside the park homer.

Lefty Bob Zuzava blanked the A's on four singles in the windup.

The Cincinnati Reds took two from Chicago Cubs, 6-0 and 6-5. Ken Raffensberger shut out the Cubs on six hits in the opener.

Bears Defeated At Little Lake

The Escanaba Bears literally found the going a little too rough for them at Little Lake Sunday and they dropped a 6-4 Rainbow league game to the Northerners. Jack Beck pitched effective ball for the Bears, striking out 11 and yielding only seven hits but five errors contributed to his downfall. The rough terrain of the outfield proved a handicap to the Bears and each of the three Escanaba outfielders dropped a fly ball while searching unsuccessfully for solid footing.

Little Lake broke a 4-4 score in the eighth by combining two Escanaba errors with two hits for two runs.

Beck hit a home run for the Bears but two Little Lake sluggers also hit for the round-tripper. Nevela, the Bears' latest in field recruit, got three hits in four trips.

The Bears threatened a rally in the upper half of the ninth when Nevela singled and Russ Hiltunen, pinch hitting for Bill Gustafson, also singled. The rally fizzled out, however, without a tally.

The line score:
Escanaba — 110 101 600-4-9-5
Little Lake — 120 001 025-6-7-4

Knop Shoots 74 But Esky Loses

Although Dick Knop, Escanaba pro shot a 74 for the low for the day, the Escanaba golf club was defeated by the Marquette club at Marquette yesterday. The score was 42-23.

Marquette's low scorer was Mink St. Germain, who fired a 76. St. Germain is a brother of Tom St. Germain, St. Joseph coach.

Fifty players from Escanaba made the trip.

Marquette club will play a return match here Sunday, July 23.

Manistique Hands Gwinn First Loss

MANISTIQUE — Manistique baseball fans Monday were wondering if a young member of the Cardinal's pitching staff isn't headed for bigger time. Norman Jahn's superb pitching here Sunday afternoon would seem to indicate so.

He held the heavy slugging Gwinn aggregation to 7 hits and their first defeat of the season. The score was 10-4 in favor of Manistique.

In eight innings he allowed but three hits and struck out 14 batters. In the ninth Gwinn got four more hits but even then he wasn't in any serious trouble.

Norman, who is only 18 years of age, operates like a veteran. He works at a steady pace and in Sunday's game had the visitors baffled.

The rest of the Cardinal team gave him fine support. The fielding of D. Carlson was particularly effective in putting a stop to what might have been a Gwinn rally.

Rock Wallops Rapid River

ROCK — It finally happened! Rock, dormat of the Bay de Noc league so far this season, rose in all its wrath against its traditional rival, Rapid River, here Sunday.

It battered G. Potvin and Neut Wright, two Rapid River pitchers, and chalked up a 9-3 victory, its first of the season.

While the Rock batters were banging out plenty of hits, Eino Valeen was holding the Rapid River batters well in check.

Local Girls' Team Loses At Menominee

Th Escanaba All Stars, a girls' softball team, didn't do so well at Menominee over the weekend, falling to the M & M Males, 15-1.

Babe Heckel, veteran Twin-City hurler, struck out 15 local batters and allowed the team only six hits. The All Stars didn't aid their cause any with eight errors.

Bark River Tips Stephenson, 6-5

BARK RIVER—Bark River toppled Stephenson from the first place spot in the Tri-county league here Sunday with a 6-5 victory.

The win left Bark River in a tie for first with Perronville, which defeated Wilson.

The locals piled up a 5-1 lead over Stephenson going into the eighth inning but the visitors came through with three in that frame. Bark River added one for good measure in their half of the eighth and it was a good thing because Stephenson scored once in the ninth.

Two of the eight Stephenson hits off Ray Moreau, Bark River pitcher, were homers by Big Red Atkuncin, first baseman, and Jim Szabo, catcher.

Eddie Mahnke, George LeBrasseur, Wally Flath and Menard got two hits each for Bark River. Menard struck out eight batters and walked five while Bud Klein, Stephenson pitcher, struck out six and walked only one.

Nahma Trounces Garden By 8-3

NAHMA—Nahma remained in the top spot in the Bay de Noc league with Cooks Sunday as a result of its 8-3 victory over Garden in a game that featured four hit pitching of Ray Schafer and the hitting of Dick LeBrasseur and Ken LaVigne.

Garden took a 2-0 lead in the first inning but Nahma scored three in the second and four in the third and was never threatened after.

Schafer struck out 13 batters while LeBrasseur and LaVigne got three hits each, including home runs.

Jack Morin of Garden struck out 10 Nahma batters.

Softball Runs Come In Groups

Runs in clusters in late innings appeared to be the rule rather than the exception in week-end softball games.

For instance, the Escanaba Steam Laundry scored seven runs in the last of the eighth to defeat the Kiwanis team, 15-13. Bill Bernard and Warren Lee of the winners and Wayne Papineau of the losers got three hits each. Bob Brunker of the winners got a triple with the bases loaded for the telling blow. Art Berndt and Bud Cousineau pitched for the winners and Bud Weber for Kiwanis.

With White Birch leading 2-1 going into the sixth, Liberty Loans rammed across six runs in that inning to win, 7-5. Bob Anderson tied the score with a homer with no one on base. Kenny Dufresne was the winning pitcher and Elfe Smith and Leo Lanour hurled for the losers.

There was a mixup when the Ishpeming Roosevelt's appeared Saturday night instead of Sunday. The Liberty Loans and Harnischfeger Red Sox, who were to have played each other tossed a coin and the Red Sox won the "honor" of playing the Ishpeming team. It was a dubious honor since the Red Sox were humbled, 11-6 in the preliminary, 14-year-old George Bartley pitched the U. M. Power and Light team to a 7-3 victory over Emsig.

Americans Favored In All-Star Battle

CHICAGO—(P)—The American league today ruled a strong 8-5 favorite to continue its dominance over the victory-starved National in tomorrow's 17th renewal of baseball's All-Star game.

The fact that Vic Raschi, veteran pitcher of the New York Yankees, will open up for the American leaguers against inexperienced Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils has no bearing on the one-sided odds.

The Americans probably would be favorites to win simply because they've made a career out of knocking the star out of their inter-league rivals in the mid-summer and world's series classics.

Ever since the mighty "Babe" Ruth blasted his two-run homer to give it a 4-2 victory in the first All-Star game 17 years ago the American league has had the upper hand and now leads 12 games to 4. The National's last triumph came in 1944.

A capacity Comiskey park crowd of 49,000 will watch the teams in action on the same field where the game was inaugurated in 1933. Requests for more than 200,000 tickets were received.

Each team will use at least three hurlers. No pitcher is allowed to work more than three innings. Manager Burt Shotton of the Detroit Tigers head for Chicago (10-3) with his own Preacher Roe (10-4) and the New York Giants' Larry Jansen (9-5).

Casey Stengel, American league's leader, may send in Yankee Tommy Byrne (9-3) in the middle three innings and close with Chicago's Ray Scarborough (8-8). Raschi, who has not allowed a run in six innings of All-Star pitching, has won 10 of 16 decisions during the regular season.

If the other pitchers are needed they will come from among Warren Spahn, Boston and Don Newcome, Brooklyn, of the National and Allie Reynolds, New York; Bob Feller, Cleveland and Ted Gray, Detroit, of the American. The rest—Bob Rush, Cubs; Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati; Jim Konstanty, Phils; Bob Lemon, Cleveland and Art Houtteman, Detroit, were used yesterday.

Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn and "Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs, who for a time, appeared doubtful starters, will be in the opening lineup for the Nationals. Robinson was sidelined for "several days because of a wrenched knee. Sauer, originally snubbed by Shotton, will start, either in left or center field.

The club owners held their annual mid-summer meeting yesterday.

After all-day huddles both the National and American leagues agreed to scrap the March 1 spring training deadline. Hereafter all clubs are permitted to send their players south for conditioning whenever they see fit. However, no club can play an exhibition game before the second Saturday in March.

The leagues also ruled that hereafter no barriers can be erected in any park while the season is in progress. This move was made to stop clubs from creating false fences to increase homers.

Hours were spent discussing the inroads of television and radio on attendance. The National appointed a committee to study the situation further.

South Koreans Pro-American

That's Report Of Missionaries

By NEA Service
CHICAGO — (NEA)—To three young missionaries, just back from South Korea, the key to the Republic's early withdrawals is the armored forces used by the North Koreans.

Before the outbreak of the fighting, says Youth for Christ missionary Bob Finley, the South Koreans were confident of superiority over the North.

"In fact," he adds, "they wanted to invade North Korea, but the U. S. wouldn't let them."

The invasion itself opened the eyes of the South Koreans, because the Communists used Russian tanks.

"They didn't expect the tanks—that's something new in Korea," Finley says.

With Gil Dodds
He and two other missionaries, Bob Pierce and ex-track star Gil Dodds, toured the Orient. Finley just finished a two-month speaking trip through South Korea before his return.

"I'm afraid there's no backing out," he says. "Even if the South Koreans retake what they've lost, they'll want to invade North Korea."

He points out that the Korean likes to fight, and especially in defense of his newly-won liberty. They have become passionately fond of freedom, he says, since their first taste of it.

The three missionaries found South Korea a fertile ground for their teachings. They claim to have found a greater spiritual response in South Korea than could be found anywhere else in the world. In Seoul, for example, the churches have a daily prayer meeting at five in the morning. These meetings draw crowds in the thousands.

North Korea Different
But they point out that the situation in North Korea is quite different.

Before World War II ended, North Korea was becoming Christianized. But, says Finley, "Then the pastors were pressed and fled to the south."

South Korea, of course, benefited from the migration of the pastors.

"Then came a great upsurge of Christianity in South Korea. There has never been anything like it in the history of Korea."

"Now there is a strong American feeling everywhere in South Korea. Just two years ago, the students were more than 90 per cent Communist," Finley says.

With his colleagues, Finley conducted revival meetings throughout South Korea. In the largest cities, schools were dismissed so the pupils could attend. At one, a crowd of 60,000 came out. President Syngman Rhee gave the meetings his support.

Heavy Apple Crop Moving To Market

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., — Apples are beginning to move to market in this four-state fruit belt and indications point to a heavier than average crop.

Early harvested apples so far have been in good condition but a little small.

Many growers apparently are trying to hold off the harvest of this early variety for a week or ten days in the hope that time and rain will improve the quality and size.

A very small sour cherry crop also started to market. Freezes did considerable damage during the blooming period.

Processors are paying nine cents a pound or $130 a ton delivered at their plants. Packers' rates are so high this year, however, that many cherry growers complain their profits are negligible.

The sweet cherry crop is so light that some commercial growers say they will not go to the expense and trouble of picking it. One orchard at Paw Paw is offering cherries at eight cents a quart to buyers who will do their own picking and furnish their own containers.
